The Wood County Board of Developmental Disabilities in accordance with Federal Public Law 108.265, Section 204 is committed to providing an educational environment that enhances learning and development of lifelong wellness practices.

The Wood County Board of Developmental Disabilities recognizes that good nutrition and regular physical activity affect the health and well-being of the School's students. Wood Lane School is committed to providing a school environment that promotes children's health and wellbeing by supporting healthy eating and physical activity.

The Board shall follow Food and Nutrition Service Guidelines of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), which requires all local educational agencies that participate in the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs to meet expanded local school wellness policy requirements consistent with the requirements set forth in section 204 of the Healthy, Hungry-Free Kids Act of 2010. The final rule requires each local educational agency to establish minimum content requirements for the local school wellness policies, ensure stakeholder participation in the development and updates of such policies, and periodically assess and disclose to the public the school's compliance with the local school wellness policies.
